ALL ABOUT YOU
Living @ Conn

The Basics

- Most residential houses have a mix of first-year students and upperclass students.
- First-year students usually live in doubles, triples or quads.
- Sophomores live in doubles or singles; juniors and seniors typically have singles.
- Your room will come with an extra-long twin bed, dresser, closet space, desk, chair, and wired and wireless internet connections.
- Landline room phones are an option if you want one. Contact the IT Service Desk at 860-439-4357.
- All residential houses are gender-inclusive, although some specific floors are single gender. All residential bathrooms are gender-inclusive.
- Your Camel Card gets you into your house; you’ll also have a key for your room.
- Your Camel Card also gets you into the dining halls and holds printing funds, Dining Dollars and Camel Cash, which work at on-campus eateries, laundry machines, copy machines and the Bookshop.

Roommates

Your roommate may turn out to be a lifelong friend. Or not. Either way, learning how to live with someone is a valuable life skill. Here are some topics to discuss when you meet with your roommate and house staff during Orientation:

- Visitors: When would you prefer not to have people in the room? Are the rules different for male and female visitors? How do you feel about having other people spend the night?
- Sharing: What is shared, and what is yours? Do you mind if your roommate eats your food? Uses your toothpaste? In the room, what is communal space?
- Noise: Do you study with music on? Do you like to watch TV late at night?
- Cleanliness: How often do you plan on cleaning the room? Do you mind if it’s messy, or do you prefer it stays neat?

HINTS & TIPS:

At the beginning of the semester you will fill out a roommate contract with your roommate(s). This is a great opportunity to set ground rules about what is OK and what isn’t.

Keep an eye on your email. This summer you will receive instructions on uploading your photo for your Camel Card.
Connecticut College is committed to promoting and advancing sustainability on campus and in the surrounding communities. As you begin to purchase items to bring to campus, look for products made by companies that are committed to environmental stewardship and provide their employees with a safe working environment and livable wages.

TIPS

TVs, DVD/Blu-ray players and microwaves are all fine to bring with you to campus. You may wish to check with your roommate(s) first so you won’t have two of everything. Purchase a power strip so you can plug them all in/turn them all off at once.

Since most residence hall rooms are not carpeted, you may want to purchase a room-sized or area rug. Wait until you get to campus, as you can buy rugs locally, and you may wish to share the cost with your roommate(s).

We have a state-of-the-art communications network providing sophisticated phone, cable and data connectivity to every room on campus, with many wireless access points. The network enables you to access academic resources such as the automated library system, the courseware server, the CamelWeb intranet, email and the web from your room. If you need to purchase a computer, Connecticut College has partnered with Apple and Dell to offer excellent discounts on many models. Learn more at https://www.conncoll.edu/information-services/purchasing/.

It’s convenient to have a small refrigerator (no larger than 3 cubic feet) in your room to keep drinks and snacks. Consider the environment and rent one; a rental service is available through the College. If you do want to purchase one, you may wish to wait until you arrive on campus and share the cost with your roommate(s). Look for Energy Star-rated appliances to help save energy.

The Connecticut College Bookshop also has many room furnishings you may need, including official Connecticut College items.

One final tip: Pack less than you think you need!
Who's Who in the Residence Houses

Fellow students hold leadership roles in the houses. These students work for the Office of Residential Education and Living (REAL) and are trained to help you have a fantastic year. On any given night, a housefellow or floor governor is on call to assist with problems or to help if you get locked out of your room.

- Housefellow
  - The top leadership position in the house, and a help with virtually any problem or issue.
  - Responsibilities may include advising on academic, personal and social matters; enforcing house and campus policies; helping develop house programs; and mediating roommate conflicts or room problems.
  - The housefellow has on-call responsibilities and the duty to intervene in order to protect the health and safety of the environment (policy enforcement).

- Floor Governor (FG)
  - The FG creates and coordinates social and educational programming such as pizza party study breaks or dialogues with faculty and staff.
  - The number of FGs depends on the size of the house.
  - The FG has on-call responsibilities and the duty to intervene in order to protect the health and safety of the environment (policy enforcement).

In addition to the student-staff positions, your house will have a number of representatives in elected positions who meet weekly as House Council. Many representatives are elected in the fall, so you can get involved. Any resident can attend House Council meetings.

- House Senator
  - Each senator is elected by house residents in the fall to represent the house in the Student Government Association (SGA).
  - The house senator attends weekly SGA meetings and voices the concerns of the house. He or she reports back to the house in a weekly email.

- Peer Educators (PEeps)
  - PEeps educate fellow residents about health issues, including alcohol and other drug abuse, nutrition and eating disorders, sexual assault/misconduct, and stress and time management.
Social Life in Your Residence
- Houses host activities such as study breaks, movies, pizza parties and brunches.
- You can organize parties and compete in Camelympics with fellow residents.
- Don’t see activities you like? Talk to your housefellow or FG and help plan some!

Intellectual Life in Your Residence
Don’t be surprised if you run into a professor in the common room! Learning doesn’t end in the classroom. In fact, some of the most interesting discussions you’ll have might take place in the common room or while you’re hanging out in your hallway.

Residential Education Fellows (REFs)
A group of faculty members called REFs help create events and programs in the houses. Eleven full-time tenured faculty, in conjunction with FGs, plan a variety of social and academic programming in the residence halls. Sometimes these programs journey into the surrounding neighborhoods. You may make cupcakes at a bakery in New London or learn to curl at an ice rink in Bridgeport.

First-Year Seminars in the Common Room
There’s nothing like rolling out of bed, heading down a flight of stairs and getting to class in 30 seconds. Some of the first-year seminars take place right in your residence common room, meaning your roommates and hallmates might also be your classmates. It’s a great way to get to know the people you live with, and oftentimes first-year seminar professors will bring treats, invite the class over for dinner or form a particularly special bond with their class.

REAL Talk
Behind the scenes, the College’s Residential Education and Living (REAL) staff works to promote learning, safety and fun in the residence halls. They’re the professionals and are ready to help out if you need a hand. The office is located in Warnshuis, behind Shain Library. (F2)
Area Coordinators

Area coordinators are professional staff members from the REAL office who work closely with each house and are assigned to different geographic areas of campus: north, central and south. You can always get in touch with your area coordinator or the REAL staff by emailing housing@conncoll.edu.

Your New Address

Even with email and text messages, there’s something nice about getting a package from home (or maybe it’s just a package you ordered from Amazon!).

- Mail is delivered to the Post Office on the first floor of Cro. You keep your same mailbox the whole time you’re at Connecticut College.
- Address letters and packages to Name, Campus Box #, Connecticut College, 270 Mohegan Ave., New London, CT 06320-4196.
- Feel free to send mail or packages in the weeks before Arrival Day. Just add “Class of 2020” to the address.
- When you receive a package, you’ll find a slip in your mailbox. Bring the signed slip and photo ID to the Post Office window to get the package.

HINTS & TIPS:

Your mailbox is available 24 hours a day, but the window is open only during weekday business hours. Keep this in mind, especially if you’re expecting a box of home-baked cookies on a Friday afternoon!
Meal Plan 101

- Participation in Dining Services’ unlimited meal plan is required for all first-year students; you will be enrolled automatically.
- You’ll need your Camel Card to swipe in to any dining hall at any meal.
- There are three meal periods Monday through Saturday (breakfast, lunch and dinner) and two on Sunday (brunch and dinner).
- Unlimited access to the dining hall means that if you need to leave for any reason, you can swipe back in during that same meal period.
- Students get $45 in Dining Dollars each semester to use at the Oasis Snack Shop in Cro and at other campus eateries.
- You can also add Camel Cash to your Camel Card. Camel Cash works for vending machines, at the Bookshop and at other locations on campus. When you run out of Dining Dollars, you can use Camel Cash at campus eateries.
- Full-plan students get four free guest meals per semester. You can charge additional guest meals to your student account by filling out a charge slip at the dining hall.
- Card run out of money? Visit http://www.conncoll.edu/camel-card/camel-cash/ to reload money online.

Where to have a meal

The main dining hall: Harris Refectory
Harris is the College’s main dining hall. It’s the largest and is located in the Plex. (It’s connected to Morrisson, Lambdin, Hamilton, Wright, Park and Johnson, so if you live in those residence halls, you won’t have to even set foot outside in the winter to go to and from meals!) Harris is the only dining hall open on weekends.

Smaller, homier options

Jane Addams (D2), Freeman (D2) and Smith (G3) all have smaller dining halls within their residence halls. They are, of course, open to any student. Freeman is the vegetarian dining hall and serves vegan meals, too. These dining halls have more limited hours than Harris does.

The language tables in Knowlton Dining Hall (E2) are a staple of Connecticut College. While all students can dine here, international and language-studying students particularly enjoy the opportunity to converse in their language of choice over lunch each day.
Where to grab coffee, have a snack or hang out

Oasis (G3)
Oasis is the main snack shop and is located in Cro. It serves sushi, ice cream, popcorn chicken, mozzarella sticks, salads and more. Oasis is open until 1 a.m. daily and until 2 a.m. on Saturday nights.

The Blue Camel Cafe (F2)
The Blue Camel Cafe is located on the first floor of Shain Library and serves local coffees, along with soup, snacks and baked goods. The cafe is open late into the night, but the room serves as a 24-hour study space that you can access with your Camel Card. @BlueCamelCafe

Coffee Grounds (G3)
Located in Katharine Blunt (KB) House, Coffee Grounds is student-run and serves coffee, tea and fresh baked goods. @Coffee_Groundz

The Coffee Closets
The original Coffee Closet began as an SGA/student partnership and quickly became one of the most popular spots for coffee, baked goods and snacks on campus. Now, the Coffee Closet has two locations:
- The Coffee Closet, Cummings Arts Center (D3)
- The Walk-in Coffee Closet at Ruane’s Den, Harkness House (E2)
Insta: The_Coffee_Closets
 DINING TIPS FROM THE PROS ***

- Be creative! Don’t like the dessert du jour? Make yourself a root beer float, milkshake or s’mores.
- There are lots of dining options, including vegetarian, vegan and gluten-free meals.
- For something simple, Harris serves grilled chicken daily.
- If you need a change of pace, Oasis has great breakfast sandwiches, and local merchants often set up shop to sell lunch in Cro.
- Harris has local/regional offerings in the salad bar daily.
- You can order eggs almost anytime in Harris from the grill station, and you can even bring veggies, meats and cheese from the salad bar to put in your omelets.
- Try out the smaller dining halls in Smith, JA and Freeman.
- Keep an eye out for specialty-food nights in Harris, which feature a taco bar, stir-fry and quesadillas.
- Freeman has a soup, salad and bread bar at lunch on Tuesdays and Thursdays.
- About twice a semester, JA and Freeman host a theme dinner, which always makes for a fun night for all.
- Moonlight Breakfast is a late-night full breakfast offered in Harris during fall exam time.
- Make friends with the dining hall staff. They’re all very friendly.
- Have an allergy? Let Dining Services know and they’ll work with you. Contact Chris Manfredi at cmanfred@conncoll.edu for more information.
- Shabbat dinner is served in Zachs Hillel House on Fridays.
- With your meal plan, you can eat in the dining hall as many times as you want in a day.
- If you really like something (or really don’t), you can tell the dining hall staff by writing a “napkin note” and leaving it on any of the dining halls’ bulletin boards.
Getting Involved @ Conn

It’s easy to get involved on campus, but it’s even easier to find out what’s going on! Just follow @ConnCollegeLive on Twitter and you’ll see daily menus, events, announcements and more. If you run a student organization or are hosting an event, just mention @ConnCollegeLive in your tweet and we’ll broadcast the word to the campus. Most organizations and teams are active on Twitter, so @ConnCollegeLive is a great place to find out whom you should follow.

Got a question? We probably have an answer. Just tweet @ConnCollegeLive and we’ll do our best to help you. Maybe something’s not working right, or you don’t know where an event is taking place. We can help!

Join a club

There are tons of student organizations on campus, and at the beginning of each year, each group sets up a table at the Involvement Fair to share what they do and recruit new members. Want to start something new? Just contact the Office of Student Engagement to learn the steps.

Make change happen: shared governance

The Honor Code entrusts students to take ownership of their academics and their campus. Through this shared governance, students have real influence on how the College runs.

Student Government Association (SGA)

- SGA’s Assembly is divided into four branches: Executive Board, Chairs Council, House Senators and Class Presidents.
- Your Class Council consists of a class president, vice president, chief of communications, Student Activities Council (SAC) representative and Honor Council representatives.
- SGA is a great way to voice your concerns or opinions and make policy changes to help benefit the College. Any student can attend SGA’s weekly meeting, which takes place on Thursdays at 7:15 p.m.
- Members of the Executive Board and Chairs Council host office hours, when you can meet them individually and ask questions.
- Executive Board, Chairs Council and Class Council elections take place in the spring for the following year. Elections for house senators and Class Council for the Class of 2020 will take place in the fall, once you arrive.

Student Activities Council (SAC)

- The council organizes social and cultural activities.
- It promotes awareness of various issues on campus.
- First-year representatives will be elected in the fall and will serve as members of both their Class Council and SAC.
- SAC provides co-sponsorship and will help individual student organizations fund and promote their events.
- SAC works closely with the Office of Student Engagement and produces some of Connecticut College’s long-standing student traditions (see page 22).

@ConnCollSAC | Insta: ConnCollSAC | fb.com/ConnCollSAC

Honor Council

- The Honor Council is charged with upholding the Honor Code and addressing conduct violations. The Honor Code entrusts students with unproctored, self-scheduled exams.
- Breaches of the academic, social or residential aspects of the Honor Code will result in a hearing before the Honor Council or a member of the Student Life staff.
- You'll matriculate by signing the Honor Code and pledging to abide by it.
- Each class elects Honor Council representatives to serve on the committee.

College Committees

Students, including SGA members, are encouraged to serve on decision-making committees alongside faculty, staff and senior administrators. Sometimes these committees even report to the president or the Board of Trustees. Committees include but are not limited to Facilities and Land Management, Student-Designed Majors/Minors Committee, Campus Safety Committee, Dining Services Committee, Educational Planning Committee, and the Priorities, Planning and Budget Committee.

Volunteer

The Office of Volunteers for Community Service (OVCS) guides student engagement in community learning internships, volunteer positions and local activism.

- OVCS and its partner agencies and institutions in New London hold a community fair on campus each semester to help students learn about opportunities within mentor and tutorial programs, human service agencies, museums, and health care institutions.
- OVCS implements an orientation, training and reflection component for students to engage in diverse communities in ethical and collaborative ways.
- OVCS provides transportation to sites throughout New London.
- Campus/community partnerships can take place both on campus and within local communities.

Save the date

You won’t want to miss these Connecticut College traditions:
- Camelympics
- Fall Weekend and Harvestfest
- Festivus
- Moonlight Breakfast
- Eclipse
- Floralia

Different kinds of events

There’s plenty to do on campus—something is always happening! SAC, residential houses and student organizations host a wide array of events, including concerts, film screenings, pizza parties, study breaks, off-campus trips, lectures and faculty-led discussions.

Student Engagement events

Student Engagement hosts a series of late-night events, including Camel Bingo, themed game shows, trivia nights, comedy performances, live music and more.

GO! (Get Out) are trips to local and regional destinations. Recent trips have included visits to the Jack-o’-lantern Spectacular and New London’s Fall Food Stroll, a visit to an alpaca farm, late-night excursions for after-hours meals at local restaurants, and live theater performances at the Garde Arts Center in New London and the Bushnell Theater in Hartford.

@CCSEPA

Student Activities Council (SAC) events

SAC is a student-run organization that puts on events and productions on campus. Learn more about SAC on page 21, in the Shared Governance section.

SAC hosts concerts, trivia events, dances, GO! trips and many other activities throughout the year. SAC’s biggest event of the year, Floralia, is an outdoor music festival featuring plenty of performances, food, novelty events and fun for all.

@ConnCollSAC | Insta: @ConnCollSAC

Cultural events

- Student organizations such as the International Student Association, Umoja, CCASA, Spectrum, La Unidad and MEChA hold events celebrating diversity and promoting awareness.
- All music department performances are free for students. Just bring your Camel Card.
- Annual events include Black History Month, Latino Heritage Month, Asian Pacific American Heritage Month, Native American History Month, Fusion, Drag Ball and Eclipse.
- Eclipse and Fusion are annual performances that capture the diversity of Connecticut College through lively dance pieces. All students and alumni are invited.

Academic events
- Departments sponsor popular lecture series to stimulate intellectual discourse.
- Pizza and Profundity, sponsored by the philosophy department, allows students to engage in philosophical discourse over a slice of pizza.
- A group of 11 faculty members called REFs (Residential Education Fellows) help create social and academic events and programs in the houses. See page 14.

Simply hang out

There are a million places to hang out with friends, read, do homework or sunbathe on campus. In addition to the coffeehouses listed on page 17, you might choose to spend some time in one of these spots:

The Arboretum
- All 750 acres of campus are managed as an arborium. It includes the 445 acres of natural area maintained by the Botany Department. The Caroline Black Garden, next to Vinal Cottage (E4), is one of the nationally recognized sections of the Arboretum.
- An outdoor amphitheater provides rehearsal and performance space.
- Buck Lodge is used for gatherings and meetings by campus groups and visitors.
- It’s a beautiful place to walk, hike, study, picnic or just sit and think.
- It’s open every day until sunset. Maps and information are available at the Arboretum office on the first floor of Olin (E3).

Lambdin Game Room
- Play table games including foosball, table tennis, air hockey and pool.
- The room also has board games, a poker table, puzzles, wall-mounted televisions, an in-house sound system, and comfy couches and chairs.

LGBTQ Resource Center (G3)
- The center serves as a resource for the entire College community to learn about issues related to gender identity and sexuality.
- It provides a guide for students to identify faculty with expertise in LGBTQ and/or gender and sexuality studies.
- Organizations on campus are invited to reserve space in the center for meetings and events.
- It is a comfortable place for students to study, watch movies, talk and relax.

@CC_LGBTQcenter | fb.com/CCLGBTQ
Office of Sustainability at Steel House (B4)

- Sustainability is rooted in the College’s educational mission, and it is very important to our campus community that we balance the three components of sustainability: social equity, economic well-being and environmental stewardship.
- Students play a huge part in developing and achieving sustainability goals, and an even bigger part in planning and implementing sustainability programs on campus.

@CCsustainable | Insta: CCsustainable | fb.com/CCsustainable

International Student Center (F1)

- The center is located in the basement of Harkness Chapel.
- It features a small kitchen, meeting space and resources for international students.

Unity House (G4)

- The College’s multicultural center supports underrepresented and first-generation college students and advises cultural student organizations.
- It contains a resource library, kitchen and multipurpose room that students, staff and faculty can reserve.
- The multipurpose room is a great place to relax and watch TV as well as hold meetings, banquets and discussions.

@ConnUnity | fb.com/CCUnityHouse

Zachs Hillel House (H4)

- Zachs Hillel House is a home-away-from-home for students that supports Jewish life and promotes intellectual, spiritual and social growth for the entire campus community.
- Upstairs features a multipurpose room for meals, lectures, meetings and studying; a kosher kitchen; a conference room; and a small library.
- The downstairs recreation room is a great place to hang out with friends. The televisions, pool table, Ping-Pong table and board games are available for use 9 a.m.-11 p.m. daily.

The Women’s Center (G3)

- The center can be found on the lower level of Smith-Burdick.
- The center provides a safe and welcoming environment for everyone to engage and discuss gender-related topics.
- Comfortable couches, Keurig coffee, a TV, books and resources on gender issues are available.
