

The ARC is OPEN remotely!

During this time of uncertainty, we want you to know that we are here for you in the ARC.

We remain available to students and faculty, and our tutoring program is functioning remotely. Click here to access the online tutoring schedule for the rest of the spring semester.

The most efficient way to request a meeting is to click here and complete a simple form.

If you want to reach me directly, you can call my office at 860-439-5142. This number is currently being forwarded to my cell. Know, however, that I may be in a meeting when you call, but feel free to leave me a message and I will get back to you quickly.

You also can email me at ngarrett@conncoll.edu.

Please stay safe and healthy, and know that we are here for you if you need us.
