

Introducing Faculty@Work 26/27 Presenters

Matthew Swagler

Assistant Professor of History

Thursday, October 15

Sana Abdi Dalton

*Jacob and Hilda Blaustein
Assistant Professor of French and Francophone Studies*

Thursday, November 19

Andrea Lanoux

*Elizabeth S. Kruidenier '48
Professor of Slavic Studies*

Thursday, February 18

11:50 AM - 1:05 PM in Hood Dining Room

*Coffee and tea provided,
please feel free to bring your lunch.*

RSVP to Rosemarie Roberts (rrobert1@conncoll.edu) is appreciated, but not required.

Faculty@Work

Thursday, October 15

11:50 AM - 1:05 PM

Policed Decolonization and Generative Repression in Congo and Senegal

Matthew Swagler

Assistant Professor of History

“Drawing on my book manuscript, this presentation focuses on the experience of decolonization in two former French colonies: Senegal and Congo-Brazzaville. In a case of historical irony, on the eve of formal independence in 1960, new African leaders in both nations used police repression to silence those activists who had agitated most vociferously for...independence! These arrests and bannings represented attempts—which ultimately failed—to bury difficult debates about the very meaning of decolonization.”

Hood Dining Room

*Coffee and tea provided,
please feel free to bring your lunch.*

Join Us At

FACULTY@WORK

ACROSS THE DISCIPLINES

"Canon, Methods and Power"

Mays Imad

Associate Professor, Biology
Neuroscience Program, Director

Kenneth Prestininzi

Professor,
Department of Theater

Mark
Joseph Stelzner

Associate Professor,
Economics

Thursday, September 24
11:50 - 1:05 PM

Blaustein Humanities Center
Hood Dining Room

Introducing
The Faculty@Work
26/27 Lightning Round Presenters

Lara Ehrlich

Visiting Assistant Professor of English Writer in Residence

Katherine Kwong

*Assistant Professor
of Human Development*

Samuel Biondolillo

Visiting Assistant Professor of Theater

Thursday, 12/3

11:50 AM - 1:05 PM in Hood Dining Room

*Coffee and tea provided,
please feel free to bring your lunch.*

RSVP to Lexa Reinhart (areinhart@conncoll.edu) by Monday, 11/23