From the President

ANDREA E. CHAPDELAINE, PH.D.

From campus celebrations to exciting plans for the future, Connecticut College continues to build on its momentum this fall. President Chapdelaine highlights a successful Fall Weekend, record-breaking support for Camel Athletics through All In To Win, the opening of the Cro-Plex Pedestrian Connector and engaging conversations about the future of liberal arts education. Looking ahead, the College is advancing plans for a new residence hall and Integrated Science Center while continuing to champion academic freedom, student success and the value of a Conn education. Explore more campus news on the Conn in the News page and see what's happening on the campus calendar.
