No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any educational program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972

Title IX Coordinator:
Programs/Title IX Coordinator
Associate Dean for Equity/Compliance
Ebony Manning
(506) 339-6735
manning@conncoll.edu

Anyone wishing to make a report white

http://www.conncoll.edu/irhp available at:

to seek support. A list of resources is experiencing a violation is encouraged

Upon receipt of campus any person

violated:

on the identity of the person who reported and respond. Depending

the College may be misled in its ability same rights you would have on campus.

abroad, the same is true on the College Coordinator while abroad. The Title

IX Coordinator is especially important that number, it is especially important that a Connecticut college community

the person who violated your rights is report any violations. They learn about:

Coordinator: Faculty are required to make a report to the Title IX

Anyone experiencing a violation may

Right to report any violations to

ATTENTION!
MEDICAL SEEK IMMEDIATE ARE INJURED.
IF YOU

1. Get to a safe place and call

6. Call SASHA 24/7. For further

pictures.

5. If there are injuries, take

collected in a glass or cup.

4. If there is semen present, try to

bag.

3. Collect any evidence. Put

clothes, sheets, etc. into a paper

2. If you cannot find a safe place,

with you.

1. Call someone safe to come and

2. If someone safe to come and be

With you:

Medical

Immediate

Are Injured.

If You

Medical

Immediate

Are Injured.

If You

6. Call SASHA 24/7. For further

pictures.

5. If there are injuries, take

collected in a glass or cup.

4. If there is semen present, try to

bag.

3. Collect any evidence. Put

clothes, sheets, etc. into a paper

2. If you cannot find a safe place,

with you.

1. Call someone safe to come and
QUICK FACTS ABOUT TITLE IX:
- Protects all students & employees from gender-based discrimination, including sexual misconduct and harassment.
- Protects everyone, regardless of sex or gender expression or identity.
- Applies even when students are studying abroad.
- All Conn College faculty are required to report violations of Title IX to the College.
- College is required to take prompt action to investigate and prevent further discrimination/harassment.

REVIEW ENTIRE CONNECTICUT COLLEGE TITLE IX POLICY:
https://www.conncoll.edu/title-ix/policies/

RESOURCES WHILE ABROAD:
SASHAA – Sexual Assault Support and Help for Americans Abroad
1. Call the number for your country:
2. At the prompt, dial 866-USWOMEN (879-6636)
Cha: live at: https://sashaa.org/

For State department resources:
https://travel.state.gov/content/passports/en/emergencies/victims.html

(Please note that an embassy may be limited in what it can do.)

A 2013 survey determined that for students studying abroad, compared to on campus, the RISK of:
- Rape was 5 times greater.
- Attempted sexual assault was 3.2 times greater.
- Unwanted touching was 4.3 times greater.

Prevention Tips:
No victim is ever to blame for sexual assault. The best way to handle a sexual assault is to avoid it if possible. These tips may help you avoid dangerous situations:

1. Follow your gut. Many victims experience a feeling that something is wrong before an attack occurs.
2. It is OK to say no. You don’t have to be polite.
3. Stay with the person or group you are traveling with. If you are traveling alone, stay in populated areas.
4. Research before you go. Be aware of cultural and societal norms in your destination country.
5. Don’t look like a tourist. Blend in with local surroundings.
6. Carefully monitor your alcohol consumption and who has access to your drinks.
7. Practice bystander intervention.

Questions?
Contact the Title IX Coordinator
Email: emanning@conncoll.edu
Phone: 860-439-2035